The Meaning of Fellowship

I was almost speechless with surprise when Jane Krohn announced the 1964 Carol Green Wilson Fellowship Award at the Banff Convention. My thoughts flew back to that stirring night at the Huntington in Pasadena eighteen years ago when the first of such awards was named for our onetime Grand President (1938-1942) Adelaide Sinclair.

In the intervening years it has been my privilege to know all of the twelve Thetas so honored and to have visited two of the seven foreign students who received Theta fellowships. In 1956 we sat in Johanna Hudig's Rotterdam apartment and sensed how Adelaide must feel in knowing that the scholar who had received her award had served her country as the first woman judge in The Netherlands. A few months later, another Theta scholar, Shanta Vashist, winner of another fellowship award was showing us about Delhi, India. She was then in charge of 184 villages in Delhi State and The Punjab, after having completed her term as a member of parliament from Delhi State and later as deputy minister of education in that state.

When I realize that the dreams of the Loan and Fellowship Committee have come true in service such as this, my cup of gratitude runs over. I look forward to following with pride the career of Loma Linda Lavell (see page 17) as she devotes her brilliant mind to government service. I am still without effective words to tell you how much this privilege means to me; but I do want you to share my knowledge of its significance.

The Bonds of Theta

How many times I have let something go by without expressing gratitude for a particular experience! I don't intend to let this happen now, though expressing myself seems quite inadequate.

I have just returned from Grand Convention which left me with a more acute awareness of being a Theta. There were many animating discussions and talks, but the greatest inspiration for me was to see delegates from different areas of the United States and Canada assembled in the bonds of Theta for the betterment of Theta.

With so much laxity of standards and morals in our society, it was inspiring to see the alumnae exemplifying a keen sense of womanhood and maintaining the true meaning of high standards and ethics.

Thank you, Theta, for the experience of meeting such wonderful people who are putting ideals into action.

A Great Freedom

The Summer 1964 Issue of the Theta Magazine, pages 3-6, was of particular interest and joy to me!

I am pleased to see Thetas (or anyone) active in politics. My husband and I have been very active since 1958 and we strongly believe that apathy on the part of the people weakens our two party system. We have a great system and great freedom but we can lose both if we don't work to maintain them.

Around Theta for Eighty Years

I want to tell you of a delightful surprise I had yesterday (July 3, 1964) when a Kappa Alpha Theta pansy pin was presented to me and I wish first to present to our Grand President my deepest gratitude for that most valued gift. I certainly shall take great pride and pleasure in wearing it.

I doubt if you will hear of anyone who has belonged to Kappa Alpha Theta quite as many years as I have. I was initiated into membership while a freshman at Indiana University in 1884 when I was just 15 years old. I graduated from I. U. in 1888. So I have been a Theta for 80 years. Do you know of anyone with a longer record?

I was invited yesterday to meet with a group of Thetas from Colorado State University and it was at that gathering the beautiful emeritus pin was presented to me by my cousin, Susan Wilson Hartman, Beta Gamma permanent alumnae secretary.

► EDITOR: Lora Webster is not only Beta chapter's oldest living Theta, but so far as we know now, Theta's oldest living Theta. She was initiated as the 84th initiate at Indiana University. Other Thetas with over 75-years in Theta, who have also received pansy "recognition" pins are:

Florence Beck Werner, Los Angeles, Calif., 130th initiate of Alpha, DePauw (1885).

Isabella Bennett Shufelt, Chateaugay, N.Y., 40th initiate of Lambda, Vermont (1886).

Mary Barwick Wright, Greencastle, Ind., 138th initiate of Alpha, DePauw (1886).

Grace Rawles Wheeler, Indianapolis, Ind., 108th initiate of Beta, Indiana (1886).

Bessie Root Harrington, Hollywood, Calif., 45th initiate of Kappa, Kansas (1887).

May Walker Kenyon, Newton, Kansas, 48th initiate of Kappa, Kansas (1887).

Anna Florence Moon Hodder, Kansas City, Mo., 57th initiate of Iota, Cornell (1888).

Olive Latta Watson, Lincoln, Nebr., 8th initiate of Rho, Nebraska (1888).

Kate Riggs, Lawrence, Kansas, 69th initiate of Kappa, Kansas (1889).

COVER: There were several inducements at Grand Convention to write letters, including all that free hotel stationery and lots of comfortable desks. However, working against letter writing was the view of the Canadian Rockies out each window over each desk, guaranteed to put the writer in a state of fog just seeing all the grandeur and to cause absent-minded doodling, not writing, on the stationery at hand. Add to this the perennial lack of time of convention-goers—no time for any extras, much less letters! Nevertheless, delegate Judy Samuel on our cover let nothing deter her. Resolutely turning her back on the mountains she started her task of reporting on convention to Thetas-back-home, members of her chapter, Alpha, DePauw. "Wish you were here," wrote Judy. "Let me tell you about all the wonderful Thetas—"

Quotation for Autumn

"We feel perfectly sure that you will leave Grand Convention convinced that there is no finer movement than the fraternity system and that you will go home dedicated to its preservation." HAZEL BAIRD LEASE, Kappa Alpha Theta grand president. (See page 13.)

YOUR EDITOR HAS A NOTION that the fact that the Banff convention was our 46th and that Kappa Alpha Theta is now approaching her 95th birthday may make some of us think of Lady Theta as very old indeed, perhaps with a fresh white kerchief on her white hair, gently rocking in her Boston rocker, tapping out the rhythm softly with her delicately shod feet.

Not so. Lady Theta, like all else in the world, is only as old as she feels and the image of Theta today is much like the fair young college girls (see bottom page 30) who lead our college chapters on the 90 campuses in the United States and Canada.

Well and good, yet the feeling of youthfulness seems to have been so strong that Theta has proved to be unsentimental about the past. While we maintain archives at the Alpha, DePauw chapter house, we have done little to collect memorabilia of the early days. Indeed, "It is later than you think!" All four of our founders passed away some time ago; all but one of their Theta daughters are gone; many mementos of the little scene enacted at Bettie Locke Hamilton's home when Theta had her beginnings, are no longer.

Now, as we approach 1970 and our 100th anniversary, we want to do what we can to collect whatever possible relating to the earliest years. We foresee a founders' exhibit for Grand Convention in that year. There is also talk of setting up a permanent exhibit of Theta treasures from the "olden days." For this we need the help of all Thetas.

We would like to know about 1) any Theta pin—vintage 1870-1880—what chapter it comes from, who had it originally, who has it now and why; also what it looks like; 2) any personal possessions of the four founders—Bettie Locke Hamilton, Alice Allen Brant, Bettie Tipton Lindsey, Hannah Fitch Shaw—what the item is, where it came from, who owns it now; 3) records of any of the defunct chapters organized between 1870 and 1880.

Any Theta who has such information as suggested, or any other information about Theta from 1870 to 1880, please write ye ed (see address at bottom of page). While staying young at heart, Lady Theta, in her rocking chair, has many traditions and treasures to share with her younger sisters. As with so much else, one is not complete without the other—youth without age has no meaning. (Age without youth has none either!)

Which brings us to a similar comment about the article on grooming for job hunting (page 4). Ostensibly aimed at the young college graduate about to seek her fortune, job hunting has wider connotations nowadays. The housewife-mother, with children finally of school age, is going "back to work." Thus the message of the article is one for myriads of Thetas, older or younger. Posing for the excellent pictures taken by photog Fran Howell Beckemeyer (page 7) was "younger" Theta Kathy Reeves, now a junior at Beta Rho, Duke. Says Fran, "Kathy must have used her good grooming tips when she went job hunting this past summer; she landed a very responsible job with a life insurance company!"

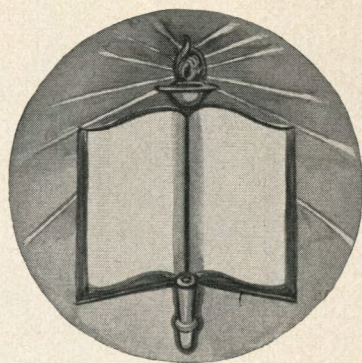

And now to coming deadlines:

Active chapter editors: November 1. Due: 100-word shortie letter on old Theta pins.

All editors and others: December 15. Due: General items about Theta for Spring Issue, 1965.

LET IT BE KNOWN

◆ I wish to read two pages of scripture—from Exodus 33:11, "The Lord spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend" and from Matthew 5:15, "Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house."

If you stand for high ideals and truth, let it be known in your life. You can serve as a light to someone who stands in shadows. One good life can draw out the good in others around it, just as light attracts moths. Draw people to you by letting them know what you stand for.

We live in a searching world. The ideals of Kappa Alpha Theta shine brightly and they lead us safely. Let this light lead other people, too. A flame in your hand may ease the steps of those who follow.

An old man walking alone in darkness crossed a frightening chasm. He stopped his journey to build a bridge in that place. Was this a waste of time since he had already crossed that space? No, for there was a young man following who would need help crossing the dangerous spot and this young man must be given a chance to go further than the old man had come. So let us be bridge builders or light bearers for the sake of those around us.

"Let It Be Known" was one of the Devotions used to open 1964 Grand Convention sessions. It was written by Dee Ann Heimbrook, president, Alpha Mu, Missouri.

GROOMING FOR AN INTERVIEW

Ability, brains and professional skills all count in getting a job, but it's your appearance that makes the first impression in any interview. You know yourself how you size up people by the way they look—and personnel agencies and prospective employers are doubly quick in gauging an applicant's potentials at a glance. Being well groomed is not just a superficial matter. It's a sign of neatness, orderliness and careful attention to detail, all important assets in any field. The mere fact of knowing that you are well groomed will also make it easier for you to appear calm, cool and sufficiently self-confident during any question and answer sessions.

The type of clothes you wear are an indication of your taste and judgment, so keep to simple dresses or suits. Choose something that fits perfectly and with a skirt that doesn't ride up several inches above your knees when you sit down. It's irritating to both you and the beholder if you are continually adjusting or tugging at your clothes. Everything you wear should be spick and span, well brushed and well pressed. Skirts that bag or sag, crumpled collars or scarfs and gaping button-holes are all signs of sloppiness, so check everything carefully ahead of time.

The very casual look may be acceptable to some employers but it's wiser to play it safe and steer clear of anything suggesting an outfit for active sports. Wear plain, tailored shoes—if they are leather, they should be polished, if suede, thoroughly brushed. Stockings should be in a muted shade, and if there are seams, be sure they are not doing the twist. Bare feet and open sandals or socks and loafers are not appropriate to the average office.

Gloves are a must in the city, and always a nice finishing touch. They should be immaculate and not fussy or conspicuous—the classic short white cotton pull-ons are a good choice for nearly any costume in mild weather, dark or neutral toned suede or leather ones in winter.

If you have a simple, becoming hat, wear it—even the most ordinary shirtwaist dress can be given an air by the addition of hat and gloves. If you are definitely anti-millinery, you might try a ribbon bandeau or a flat tailored bow, both excellent accessories not only from the style angle but for holding your hairdo in place. However, if you always go everywhere bareheaded and would not feel natural otherwise, see to it that you have a hairdo which stays put.

Don't overdo the jewelry or perfume—many executives are annoyed by clanking bracelets, clattering beads or too potent a fragrance. Have a handbag that goes with your costume and is adequate for all your needs. Organize the contents so that you can produce letters and résumés without rummaging through a mass of gadgets and wadded-up tissues, which looks untidy and unattractive.

As for your hair and face, the conservative approach is always the best. An elaborate coiffure and heavy make-up will not convince anybody that you are sophisticated and experienced, in fact they may suggest the exact opposite. Settle for glossy, well-brushed hair arranged in some easy-to-handle style that does not require constant combing, and a medium or light shade of lipstick. Avoid exotic colors and theatrical effects with shadow and mascara. The same rule holds good for nail polish, and be sure that each nail has a flawless coat or none at all as nothing looks worse than chipped spots here and there.

Of course, you appreciate the importance of the daily shower or tub and the regular use of a deodorant. Be particular about other personal details as well—today's sleeveless styles and sheer stockings show up any neglect in these areas. Besides frequent applications of lotion on your hands, don't overlook your elbows where chapped, scaly patches are often obvious to everyone but yourself.

In case you have to do a minor repair job

◀ These two girls are smart because they have gone in for classics—a well-cut tailored suit and dress, worn with appropriately simple hats, bags and gloves. The job-hunter who follows these principles in clothing won't go wrong.

The Author

Marcella Chalkley Holmes (Mrs. J. Burt Holmes) is a member of Kappa chapter at the University of Kansas, following in the footsteps of her aunt, Marcella Howland. Before her marriage she was on the editorial staff of Vogue. Some years later, when both her daughters were in school, she returned to Condé Nast Publications, this time to Glamour where she was beauty editor. From there she went to the public relations department of the J. Walter Thompson advertising agency as group head of cosmetic publicity.

Since 1952 she has been a free lance writer, doing publicity and some magazine articles. She has written for McCall's, Glamour, Modern Bride, Everywoman's, Promenade and various other publications. Among outside activities, she is a member of the Young People's Concerts Committee of the New York Philharmonic and of the Republican Women in Industry and Professions.

on your appearance, carry the necessary tools in your purse along with your comb, powder and lipstick. If your hair is the unruly variety, include a miniature container of hair spray. If you do not wear nail polish, have an orange stick at hand as chance specks of dust and dirt give a very grubby look to your fingers. A small file or emery board can be a godsend if you should have the bad luck to break or split a finger nail. And above all, don't attend to these matters while waiting your turn in the reception room but head for the washroom, or, if that's too involved a procedure, take refuge in the nearest telephone booth.

Last of all, pay attention to your posture—how you stand, sit and walk, and the way you manage your feet and hands. Whether you're tall or tiny, pull yourself up as though you were being suspended from the ceiling by your back hair and keep your shoulders relaxed and down. This does wonders for giving an air of poise—and also whittles down your waistline. A round-shouldered slump or a sway-backed stance with your stomach sticking out does not suggest an alert, well-integrated personality.

Walk with your feet pointing straight ahead, swinging your leg from the hip instead of from the knee, and without shifting your weight from side to side. Once you are seated, avoid awkward positions like twisting one foot about the leg of your chair or having your toes turned in. Instead, keep both feet parallel on the floor with one slightly ahead of the other and hold your knees together or cross your legs as far above the knee as possible so that the upper calf does not become pressed into an unflattering spread. Let your hands stay quiet and relaxed in your lap or on the arms of your chair, and make a point of keeping them away from your head. Twisting a lock of hair, rubbing or stroking your face, playing with a necklace and so on are all distracting little gestures that do not relieve your nerves or the situation.

No matter how shaky and uncertain you may feel inside when you start your job hunt, there's a comforting assurance in knowing you look right in every detail. Poise and good grooming are acquired by practice—and so are the top positions.

GOOD GROOMING ON CAMPUS

"A Theta is a lady at all times."

In a survey of Theta chapter grooming practices, the word lady appeared often. Which, in a sense, covers the subject. A true lady is well groomed—both in her person and in her clothing.

There are a number of policies in effect on most campuses and most Theta houses (though these are by no means all):

Cut-offs, short-shorts, dirty jeans are "out." . . . Bermudas, slacks, capris are not worn to chapter meeting, class, the library, the Union or downtown, but are permissible for picnics, phys ed classes, bowling, float-building. Exception: below zero weather (for slacks); for comfortable studying ("exam dress") during exams . . . Hair curlers are not worn outdoors or on the public floors of the chapter house, or to meals . . . Skirts are worn to meals, with heels for special dinners . . . Nylons are worn to class and "neat-looking shoes." The barefoot Theta (with or without cheeks of tan) is banned from the public floors of the chapter house and from the dance floor . . . No gum chewed in public . . . No cigarettes at the dinner table, when walking or standing on campus or in town, when dancing . . . No earrings worn to class . . . No muu-muus, bathrobes in public part of chapter house except after hours . . . Theta pins worn only when a girl is "properly dressed"—i.e., not at costume parties, with bermudas, slacks, or sweat shirts . . . Hats worn to church . . . Simple make-up and simple well-kept hair styles.

As one Theta says, "The rule is to make yourself inconspicuous." Or, as another Theta defines it, "Good grooming is the outward appearance of a girl which heightens not only her self-pride and reputation but the feelings that others have established for her. Essentially it is neatness, cleanliness, appropriateness all coordinated to enhance a girl's personality." Or, going back to the ladies, one chapter sums it up, "Thetas should dress like ladies at all times."

The pictures: YES—The neat effect comes from simple tailored lines and accessories plus a smooth, becoming hair-do and natural looking make-up. NO—Two rights can sometimes make a wrong in clothes, as this flowered blouse would have gone nicely with a plain dark suit, or the plaid skirt would have been good with a solid color jacket or overblouse. In either case, plain dark shoes would be the thing. And, for office wear, no girl should let a craze for accessories go to her head, waist, wrists. Make-up (too much), hair-do (frowsy), posture (poor)—all wrong!

46th Grand Convention

From Theta's New President ~

THERE IS AN OLD SONG that starts, "There is a long, long trail a winding into the land of my dreams." As I begin this first year as your Grand President it is my dream that Thetas everywhere, regardless of age or geographic location, may be united in attaining great goals. Dr. Seth Brooks, president of Beta Theta Pi, speaking at the banquet the last night of the Kappa Alpha Theta 1964 Grand Convention, said that Kappa Alpha Theta is a great fraternity, but that a fraternity must be more than great—it must be good. Let us all strive together in harmony, both in our individual lives and in our groups, so that we will live and work in such a way that it may be said by all, "Thou art a living good."

VIRGINIA S. EDWARDS
Grand President

This Was Convention

What Was What: The theme for Kappa Alpha Theta's 46th Grand Convention was "From Ideals to Action in Fraternity." Following the convention opening with the Niké ceremony held Sunday night, June 14, when chapter links were added for newly organized Puget Sound and Louisiana State, the remainder of the working convention (June 15-18) focused on the announced theme and thus the concept of making the ideals on which Theta was built the basis for perpetuating the fraternity idea.

Particularly geared to this goal were the college and alumnae seminars which occupied Monday and Tuesday, the first two days of convention. For some sessions college delegates and their alumnae counterparts met together, then divided to discuss their problems separately.

After outlining some of the major challenges for fraternity chapters today, the college girls set about forming workable solutions plus developing a profile of an ideal college Theta. Said one delegate as the college seminars closed consideration of this ideal Theta: "In our dreams this Theta sits on a pedestal and wears a halo. In reality many of us fall short on many criteria but we all strive toward greater realization of our ideals through knowledge and inspiration gained in these sessions."

The same down-to-earth appraisal of their problems was engaged in by the alumnae delegates who were given the opportunity to gain a better understanding of today's collegiate chapters and to pinpoint alumnae responsibility for the mature appreciation of Theta standards. The need for sincere commitment to the fraternity idea was emphasized, based on the Greek tradition of pursuit of excellence.

The business meetings of the convention occupied Wednesday and Thursday and included a number of amendments to the Constitution and Code of Regulations. An innovation this year was the elimination of the "rump" session normally held on the morning following the formal banquet. Convention ended following the formal banquet on Thursday night.

A final report on attendance showed 464 Thetas present at the entire convention. And as the sessions closed President Hazel Lease's pre-convention prediction to delegates proved more than true: "You will find that by Friday morning you will have gained friends, had fun and learned more about Theta than you ever dreamed possible!"

Who Was Who: It is a historic tenet that if you attend a Theta convention you spend your time attending regular meetings, special meetings, meetings before meetings, meetings after meetings, and when all other time is filled, pop off to an after-midnight meeting. Which proves that Thetas have extraordinary vigor and extraordinary enthusiasm (for Theta), a fact particularly true of convention committee workers.

Members of the Convention Executive Committee, Canadians all—Grace Hope Dickson, Margaret Howson Craig, Irene McGavin Voigt, Lois Nichols Foote, and Myrle Moore Duncan—manned the registration desk, carried on their work efficiently and well.

Central Office staff, led by Dorothy Schulze Vaaler, EST, got themselves and all Theta supplies from Chicago to Banff and return with extraordinary aplomb and were able to locate anything that needed locating at the exact moment it needed locating. Credit goes to Jeanne

Gullett, Betty Marshall Cadwell, Melinda Cumming Waltz whose firmly cultivated skill at packing and unpacking should help them secure jobs at the Railway Express should anything happen to their Theta employment.

Ginger Burns Boynton, in her first year as full convention manager, proved well able to cope with convention problems, including the nagging question: "When will the special train depart for Chicago on its return trip?" and with the assistance of Harriet Darley Damisch kept everything at convention running and on time.

The Kite, the convention newspaper, with Carolyn McKenzie Carter and Daphne Parks Major firmly in charge again, came out with more pictures than ever before, and recorded convention happenings most readably in its four issues.

Evelyn Widman Tunncliffe as usual sailed through her Nominating Committee duties (second time around) and also was busy as president of the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation (see pic this page). Another welcome visitor to convention was the Magazine Agency chairman, Charlie Fenton Clarke, who it is reported, would rather sell magazines for Theta than eat. In any case, she does so well at it is a wonder she has any time left over for eating!

Much in evidence were Canadian Thetas from the area and Betty Ann Rostrop Graves of Edmonton deserves mention as designer of the attractive Banff Stampede menus.

Recognized for stellar service to Theta over many years, Ellen Bowers Hofstead (only former national president in attendance), current NPC delegate, and Jeanette Stafford Flaningam, parliamentarian, were each given a token of appreciation by Grand Council at the Thursday night banquet. At the same time all retiring officers of Theta—Hazel Lease, Virginia Chain Schmid, Mary Hamilton Ackerman, Peg Gere Flaherty, Mary X. McCarthy Plummer, and Virginia Ford Hood—were presented to the gathering and appreciation expressed for their services.

Of course, besides all these, also working were the ever-busy Grand Council (15), the ubiquitous DP's (34), the college delegates (89), the alumnæ delegates (73), plus many others.

Especially welcomed were representatives from twenty-nine alumnæ clubs. Six state chairmen were there. Twenty-five Advisory Boards were represented, too.

Foundation officers Evelyn Widman Tunncliffe (l.) and Willie Trost Shattuck were kept busy at convention. Shown contributing to the Theta Foundation and getting their tags as annual members are (r.) L. L. Metzger McCutchan, Alpha, DePauw (also a Foundation charter contributor) and Jean Bonney, Tau, Northwestern. The Foundation goal for the 1970 (100th) convention is a Memorial Scholarship Fund. The annual membership drive to support this fund started at Banff.

ARRIVING

It seems like just years since the last convention.

Hey there, wait a minute! Don't you want my ticket?

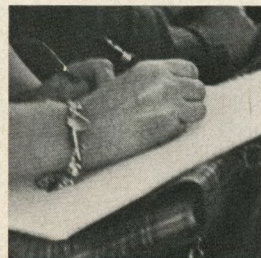

Oops! I sure don't want to lose my Theta pin now.

MEETINGS

I never thought about it exactly that way before.

The Scotch bags are so useful to take notes on.

My-oh-my, that was an excellent talk just now.

Convention Chit-Chat

◆ Theta's Grand Council found that the advance billing from the Banff Springs Hotel that they would live like royalty was all too beautifully true. The elaborately furnished GC suite with its many rooms and sitting rooms is the one Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip of England and their retinue occupy when visiting Banff. President Hazel and roommate Mary X. Plummer had the Queen's own room which was fine with them, except they never did figure out how a Queen's elaborate wardrobe could fit into the exceedingly small closet space in the bedroom!

◆ Hilarious note was hit at the Awards Dinner when MC Peg Flaherty tried to read some of her notes with seatmate Mary Maurer's glasses which she picked up by mistake. Thetas may share the same viewpoint, but not the same bifocal prescription! As she retrieved her own glasses Peg quipped that only the worst can happen when "two hams (PF & MM) team up on the same stand!"

◆ With or without glasses, however, Mary Maurer was able to count correctly the number of Theta Grand Conventions she has attended. With 14 to her credit she was one ahead of Carol Wilson (13) and two ahead of Willie Shattuck (12).

◆ Once a historian, always a historian! Author of We Who Wear Kites, Carol Green Wilson was reappointed as Kappa Alpha Theta national historian by Grand Council.

◆ TLC (tender loving care) is what Thetas felt like giving the two Johnson sisters, Grace (see also page 17) and Leirion Johnson Appleton, the 72-year and 71-year Thetas respectively from the Vermont chapter. But the Johnsons sturdily rejected the TLC formula, kept up with the best of the younger Thetas, were much in evidence at all convention events. Urged to leave a membership selection meeting because the hour was so late Grace's reply was emphatic: "No, I want to hear all that happens in order to make a full report to my Theta Alumnae Club!"

AS WE STAND UNITED

◆ Theta is very conscious of changes on the college campus and realizes that the need of college fraternities is greater than ever before. Colleges are crowded and entrance requirements are high. Not everyone who wishes can be admitted. There has been a great increase in junior colleges, so not all entrants in four-year colleges are freshmen. This means a change in our thinking about four-year girls. It might even mean a change in our thinking about having Theta chapters in only four-year colleges. Many schools have full year-round four-quarter courses and we have several on a trimester system.

This brings us a problem in housing—do we keep our houses open all year? A problem in scholarship—do we recognize summer school grades? Scholastic requirements are higher everywhere, so do we discourage all outside activities and concentrate only on grades? How do we strike a happy medium? Many students are married. Where do they fit into the fraternity picture? Moral standards are not what they once were and overworked administrations are not always concerned about the personal actions of their students. Who then can consider the individual? With this amazing increase in enrollment, the value of small group living becomes ever more important.

Let me assure you that Kappa Alpha Theta is aware of all these things. We are constantly facing the problems brought by change and I can say with pride that we are doing everything possible to meet every situation on every campus. We are looking squarely at the facts of today and we are adjusting to change and preparing for more. We have the examples of the past to guide us, but we are living in today and trying to meet the demands of the present. I can say to you frankly that the state of the Kappa Alpha Theta union is good. It is neither unprepared nor unwilling to face the future.

We do not pretend to be perfect. We are, however, striving to live up to certain principles and ideals. We do not need a new system. We need a rededication to the system we already have.

Kappa Alpha Theta was organized with the thought that in union there is fun and friendship and there is also strength to obtain goals that might not be achieved alone.

I think we must realize that there are those who would contemplate the destruction of the fraternity world along with lodges, churches and service organizations. Let us not be so naive as to think that this movement against us is all carried on by idealists. If we care for our democratic social rights, let us not confuse the issue with those civil rights to which we think every human being is entitled.

Woodrow Wilson once said, "We must neither run with the crowd nor deride it, but seek sober counsel for it and for ourselves." That is what we are trying to do.

We have made many mistakes as fraternities. We have fallen short of our ideals, but our goals are there. Now is our opportunity to make the fraternity what it started out to be. Let us make the fraternity house a center of culture; upgrade our libraries; uphold standards rather than lower; disprove articles on drinking, on sexual revels, on depravity which seem to fill every magazine story of college life. Let us be what we are meant to be.

We live in a disturbed world, but we will not improve it by giving up. If we have faith in our heritage, then let us extend our influence. Abraham Lincoln once said, "You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong, you cannot help small men by tearing down big ones." We are strong but we will remain strong only if we face issues calmly and courageously without panic and with confidence in ourselves. There is plenty of reason for improvement in all we do, but that does not mean we should surrender.

Let us have a good look at ourselves and what we really are. Even the House of Representatives passed the Civil Rights Bill with this exemption, and I now quote, "The Civil Rights Commission is forbidden to inquire into the membership practices and internal operations of fraternal organizations, fraternities, sororities and private clubs." If our Congress stands up for us, why can we not defend ourselves?

If this convention can send every fraternity woman home with a vision of what a true fraternity can be, if it can make us all aware of how far we have gone toward losing our own rights and liberties, if it can give us the determination to carry the ideals of the past into the action of today—then it will have served its purpose well.

I make no empty promises, but I firmly believe that we are united by a danger to our system, but also by hope and purpose. I am optimistic about the future of fraternities. Perhaps I am dreaming, but, as Barbara Ward, the British economist said, "If we do not dream today—tomorrow will belong to those who do."

To Preserve a Free Society

Excerpts, NPC report: If we are to take an intelligent look at the college campus and fraternities today we must look also at current trends in our nation, since both the campus and the fraternities reflect these trends. Why are our basic rights as voluntary associations being challenged? We must recognize that our organization and other voluntary associations are under a systematic and determined attack in the name of something called equality. Certainly equality before the law and equality in the eyes of God is a great and noble thing. However, we must oppose with all the weapons at our command the effort to turn this concept into an instrument for producing a society in which there are no differences. . . .

Let me say a word in favor of inequality, although I know this isn't the fashionable thing to do. What really makes our society strong? I would submit that it is precisely inequality—inequality of taste, inequality of abilities, inequality of specialized attributes. Why do certain people want to eliminate these differences? Why do they want a United States in which no one is significantly different from anyone else? The answer is possibly that they want to make all decisions. This they cannot do in a free society which depends on differences of abilities. . . .

Thus, I repeat, as I have said many times in the past: I truly feel that as we defend our right of voluntary association we are in reality defending the whole concept of a free society. Much more than fraternity is at stake.—ELLEN BOWERS HOFSTEAD, NPC delegate.

The Furor in Education

Marian G. Gallagher, law librarian and professor of law at the University of Washington, Seattle, spoke to Thetas with emphasis and humor on changes in the education of women today. Basing her remarks partially on her experience as chairman of a University of Washington committee studying the education of women, Professor Gallagher stated that in her opinion "Soon we can abandon the concept of college education as a four-year affair and think instead of four to 40 years, with beginning in youth or in middle age and with an open end."

She noted that modern life presents the modern woman with a variety of problems stemming from the fact that she learns in college that she has "brains and talent and she needs to use them." Also there is early marriage (less than 40% of the girls who enter the University of Washington graduate at the end of four years). The problem for modern educators has become one of "figuring out a kind of educational pattern which will sustain these young women over their child bearing years, and still allow them to pick up their education and careers when the time comes."

Based upon this trend, which makes "the educational pattern designed for men now seem unsuitable for women," colleges across the country are responding with special programs designed for the older woman with newly acquired time. Already, over 10% of the students at the University of Washington are over 35. These women are being helped to see that "interruptions of education and careers are just that—interruptions and not endings."

A Code of Great Living

The president of Beta Theta Pi, Dr. Seth R. Brooks, was Theta's formal banquet speaker. Minister of the Universalist National Memorial Church in Washington, D.C., Dr. Brooks was general secretary of Beta for ten years and is serving his second term as president. He was introduced by toastmistress Alice Gonser.

Here is the Code of Great Living he presented to his Theta listeners:

1. Appreciation and gratitude—these are the measure of one's heart.
2. Affection—this is the measure of one's feelings.
3. Loyalty—this is the measure of one's endurance. "Only the loyal truly live."
4. Ideals and dreams—these are the measure of one's spiritual reach. "We who know the stars are not afraid of the night."
5. Good will—this is the measure of one's sense of brotherhood. "To understand is to forgive."—Kant.
6. A high opinion of oneself—this is the measure of one's spirit.
7. Character—this is the measure of one's refinement. "The supreme test comes in terms of character."
8. Conduct—this is the measure of one's behavior.
9. Wisdom—this is the measure of one's intellect. "It brings right judgment as to the relative value of things."
10. Reverence—this is the measure of one's awe before that which is sacred.

All together this code provides the guide to "goodness" which makes for "greatness."

Mary Maurer (r.) views 1880 Theta pin now in possession of magazine chrm. Charlie Clarke (l.). Given by a Theta to her sweetheart, the pin was found in his lock box at his death.

Pin Points

◆ Showing her collection of replicas of pins made from the dies of the early pins, Mary Rieman Maurer, Beta, Indiana, told the origin of the Theta pin at the awards dinner.

Designed with chalk on a blackboard under the leadership of Bettie Locke, the first Theta pin was adapted mainly from the Phi Gam pin (Bettie was a Phi Gam girl). The letter ordering the first pin was written January 27, 1870 signed by B. M. Locke and elicited a reply from Newman, the jeweler, to "Mr." Locke. Newman inserted both the date and the curved sides on the pin, prepared the die for $30.00 and the four pins for $10.00 each.

Worn by Theta's founders for the first time in March 1870 in the DePauw chapel, the college boys immediately dubbed the inch-long, three-quarter-inch-wide pins as "kites."

On April 22 the girls decided on the significance of the stars and a little later decided on the meaning of the chevron. It was a Kappa, asking about Theta colors, that prompted the impromptu choice (adopting the colors on the pin) of black and gold.

Later, there were as many as three sizes of pins—big, little, medium—and six jewelers. Since 1907 there has been one standardized pin and since 1915, one jeweler.

In closing, Mary Maurer quoted her words at the unveiling of the Bettie Locke picture at the Alpha chapter house: Bettie Locke Hamilton lives today—for in us is the fulfillment of all her youthful dreams.

1964 FELLOWSHIP

Kappa Alpha Theta's biennially awarded Foundation Fellowship was named for Carol Green Wilson this year. The Wilson Fellowship thus honors one who is a 50-year Theta and who is the author of We Who Wear Kites, in addition to four other books. She became a Theta at Phi chapter at Stanford where she was also a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Carol founded the San Francisco Alumnae Club, served two terms as its president, was a Theta district president for five years. Her civic interests in San Francisco, where she lives, include the YWCA, the Century Club, the First Congregational Church. (See also inside front cover.)

Recipient of the Fellowship is Miss Loma Linda Lavell, Tulsa, Okla., a graduate student majoring in the Russian language, history and geography at the University of Indiana's School of Russian Affairs. Receiving her B.A. degree in January 1964 at the University of Oklahoma, Miss Lavell was voted outstanding senior woman there, was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Mortar Board. She looks forward to a government career in foreign affairs.

1964 SCHOLARSHIPS

Eight Foundation graduate scholarships were awarded at convention, seven of these the regular $500 grants, one a special grant of $600 made possible because of "generous contributions to the Foundation by chapters, clubs and individuals." Another $600 grant was named by the Foundation as a tribute to Grace A. Johnson of Springfield, Mass., 72-year-Theta from Lambda, Vermont, longtime high school Latin teacher and selfless worker for others. Money for this grant was made possible by contributions to the Foundation by Grace Johnson's Theta friends and relatives in the Greater Boston area and by the Boston Alumnae Club.

Grace and her sister attended convention.

Recipient of the $600 Johnson Foundation Scholarship is Mary Carole Kersh, 1963-1964 president of Theta at Beta Phi, Penn State. She has now enrolled in the Stanford Medical School in the department of Speech Pathology and Audiology with the goal of obtaining a certificate in the American Speech and Hearing Association. This will equip her to do specialized work with children suffering from cerebral palsy, cleft palate or aphasia.

1964 Foundation Scholarship Winners

Special $600, made possible by contributions from chapters, clubs and individuals to the general fund of the Foundation to:

Anne Houghton, Chi, Syracuse, now working for her Ph.D. in political science. Anne received her B.A. from Syracuse in 1963, her M.A. in 1964. Her aim is to teach at the college level. She received the Elizabeth Smith Award for the girl who had given the most to her chapter. From the graduate school at Syracuse come these remarks: "Miss Houghton is one of the two students in the first year to receive straight A. She has unusual ability, is conscientious, attractive and has a delightful personality."

Seven $500 awards to:

Ann Marie Abrahamson, Gamma Pi, Iowa State, who received her B.S. in 1963 and taught English and drama this past year in the Denver public schools. She is now enrolled in the Ohio State University School of Student Personnel and Guidance and hopes someday to become a dean of women, director of a student union or some other type of counselor. Ann was president of Theta, a member of Mortar Board and president of the YWCA. She is rated by her teachers as "having no superiors in scholarship, citizenship service and outstanding student leadership on campus."

Linda S. Brody, Beta Pi, Michigan State. She has her B.S. from Michigan State and is studying for her master's degree in psychology, preparatory for a career in counseling and guidance. A member of Mortar Board and in the Honors College at Michigan State, Linda was active in university events, Panhellenic and was rush counselor for her chapter. Her recommendations included such statements as, "Linda is a woman of integrity who assumes responsibility for her own actions as well as others. She will become a valuable citizen of her community and make thoughtful contributions."

Lynn Gass Hawtin, who is Mrs. Bruce Hawtin from Alpha Chi, Purdue and Beta Eta, Pennsylvania. She received her B.S. in physical therapy from Pennsylvania and now hopes to earn an M.A. in speech pathology at Oklahoma where her husband has two more years in the school of architecture. Lynn is an active member of the Norman Alumnae Club. She is considered an outstanding graduate student at Oklahoma and has been described as "especially adept at handling cerebral palsied children and their parents—in fact, capable of success in anything she may undertake."

Connie Maxwell, Beta Omicron, the University of Iowa. She is enrolled in the graduate school at Iowa working for an advanced degree in speech pathology and audiology. Connie was graduated with honors, is a member of Mortar Board and Phi Beta Kappa, was president of Theta. "She is a person with an intellect that is outstanding, an emotional maturity beyond her years and a rare personality."

Margaret McFarland, Gamma Omicron, New Mexico, who hopes to secure an M.A. in Spanish, ultimately a Ph.D., with teaching at the college level as her goal. She is a member of Mortar Board, was Theta rush chairman and Standards Committee chairman. Peggy is a member of the Ford Foundation M3 program which allows her a part-time instructor's position while studying for her advanced degree. Her professors say, "Miss McFarland is a most superior student." Her Theta advisor's recommendation says, "Peggy is a devoted Theta, will always be a credit to her fraternity."

Susan Stensrud, Upsilon, Minnesota. She received her B.A. magna cum laude from Minnesota in 1963 and received her Certificate of College of Europe in Bruges, Belgium this year. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Susan will earn her master's degree at Johns Hopkins' School of Advanced International Studies, hoping then to serve the government by furthering Atlantic and European integration. In this field her exceptional command of the French language will be invaluable. Susan was rush chairman at Minnesota, secretary to the college Panhellenic. Her mother is a Theta.

She was chorus director of Greek week, accompanist for the Thanksgiving choral festival, member of the chorus and glee club." She is a Theta granddaughter.

1964-1966 GRAND COUNCIL

In the game of Theta's "musical chairs" VP Edwards becomes the new president; two VP's (Krohn and Jorgensen) stay on. Two MAL's (McCelvey and Stansfield) move to the VP's jobs. Four MAL's carry over into a second term and six DP's become MAL's for the first time.

Grand President—Virginia Speidel Edwards. Grand vice-president for Theta heading the college program since 1960, with two years on Grand Council prior to that also working on college, Jinny brings breadth of experience to the position of grand president. She started her Theta life as a college member of Alpha Tau, Cincinnati, still lives in Cincinnati with her lawyer husband, has made herself felt in local activities such as Red Cross, United Appeals, YWCA board of directors, Children's Hospital. But that was BT (before Theta responsibilities grew so extended). These started with the presidency of the Cincinnati Alumnae Chapter, moved on to the presidency of District X where, during her third term, she was tapped for Grand Council. Mother of one son (a Beta like his father) Jinny is delighted to have Theta Larrilyn Carr as her daughter-in-law. Having spent the summer following the Theta convention at the new Edwards cottage on the upper peninsula of Michigan, Jinny is now ensconced in her family-room-turned-office in Cincinnati, working as she says, "eight to ten hours a day on Theta."

Grand Vice-President, College Program—Josephine Brossard Stansfield. Jo has served two stints on Grand Council, first on the Administrative Committee, then on the College Committee. She has also done two stints as president for District XVII, the first as

Grand Vice-President, Alumnae Program—Norma Anderson Jorgensen. As Norma continues on in the same Grand Council job she held in 1962-1964 she also starts her fifth year working for alumnae and her seventh year as a member of Council. In a switch from her alumnae duties she served on the Administrative Committee of Council 1960-1962, inaugurating Theta's first nationally inspired public relations program. A charter member of Gamma Zeta at Connecticut, Norma also claims charter membership in the Hartford Alumnae. She has been on the Gamma Zeta Advisory Board, was state chairman for Connecticut and Rhode Island for four years, college president District IV three years. She has a Sigma Nu husband, a married Theta daughter, a son in prep school. She lives in Newington, Conn.

Grand Vice President, Finance Program—Opal Marshall McCelvey. Opal has had two terms as member-at-large on Grand Council, both of them on the finance committee and now moves in as head of the finance program. She once listed one of her hobbies as traveling to Mexico—but her travels for the nonce may be mostly confined to Theta business. She was initiated at Alpha Theta, Texas, helped install Gamma Psi at Texas Christian, has been president of both the Dallas and Fort Worth Theta Alumnae Chapters. She was in her fifth year as college president of District XII when she went on Grand Council. Her husband, son, and son-in-law are all SAE's, her daughter a Theta, and apparently everyone, like Opal, attended the University of Texas. Formerly a Dallas resident, she now calls Fort Worth her home.

Grand Vice-President, Service Program—Jane Campbell Krohn. Dedicated to service for Theta and by Thetas, Jane will continue in the same job she held the 1962-1964 biennium. Prior to that she was a member-at-large on grand Council for four years, always working with service. A resident now of Portland, Ore., she also became a Theta in that state—at Alpha Xi chapter at the University of Oregon. But since college days she has had the opportunity, while moving around, to belong to four Theta alumnae groups—in Berkeley, Chicago, Boston, and Portland. She has a Kappa Sig husband, a Phi Delt son, and a Theta daughter-in-law from Omega, California-Berkeley (and a couple of grandchildren, as yet uncommitted). She was college president District XIV for six years, has also served on the Alpha Xi Advisory Board. She has done substitute teaching.

MEMBERS-AT-LARGE

Administrative Committee—Jane Van Sickle Clemons. Newly elected to Grand Council, Jane left her job as alumnae president for District VIII where she was in her third term. She became a Theta at Rho, Nebraska, currently lives in Omaha where she has done "time" as president, vice-president, and held various chairmanships in the Theta Alumnae Chapter. Has two daughters and a son, is interested in work with youth.

Administrative Committee—Florence Buck Fuller. Florence became CDP XIV in 1961, leaves this job to go on Grand Council. Was initiated at Alpha Xi, Oregon where she was also a Mortar Board, Phi Beta Kappa. Later went to Wellesley and secured her master's in English literature.

Traveling with her husband at one time was active in Theta at San Francisco, Durham, N.C., St. Louis, was Advisory Board chairman at Beta Rho, Duke. Has Theta sister, sister-in-law. Served on Loan and Fellowship Committee since 1958. Lives in Portland, Ore.

College Committee—Eleanor Conly Hunt. This is Eleanor's second time 'round on the college committee. She left her job as college president, District XVI to work on Grand Council in 1962. A native Texan, she was initiated at Alpha Theta, Texas, is now thoroughly a Washingtonian (Washington, D.C.) since she is married to a seven-generation resident. She has one son. Has been a recommendation board chairman for Maryland.

College Committee—Janice Richardson Schmuck. Janice is another CDP who left to work on Grand Council. She was elected college president, District X in 1961. A Theta at Gamma deuterion, Ohio Wesleyan, she now lives in Columbus, Ohio, has been active in civic affairs, also alumnæ affairs for Ohio Wesleyan. Served as president of the Gamma deuterion House Corporation. Daughter is also Ohio Wesleyan Theta, son a Phi Gam.

College Committee—Ruth Hill Wilber. Ruth continues on the college committee in her second term as member-at-large. Prior to this she was college president, District V. She lives in Stillwater, Okla.; was a Theta at Beta Zeta, Oklahoma State; was active in installation of this group as Theta chapter; was first Advisory Board chairman, later treasurer of the House Corporation. She has also been Oklahoma state chairman. She has a Beta husband and son, a Theta daughter and daughter-in-law, both from Beta Zeta.

Alumnæ Committee—Marion Hedden Hinderer. Marion is devoted to encouraging the organization of more and more Theta alumnæ clubs. She starts her second term on Grand Council after having served both as the single president for District VI, then as alumnæ president. She was initiated at Alpha Omega, Pittsburgh. Has been active in the Pittsburgh Alumnæ Chapter, was also state chairman for Pennsylvania.

Alumnæ Committee—JoAnn Crites Thompson. JoAnn came on Grand Council in 1962, will continue her work with alumnæ. An initiate of Beta Theta, Idaho, she lives on a ranch near Moscow with her three children and Delta Chi husband. She was the first ADP for District XV, has been continuously busy with Theta work. She has been on both the Corporation Board and the Advisory Board for Beta Theta, has been active in the Moscow Alumnæ Club. She was also instrumental in organizing the Moscow City Panhellenic.

Finance Committee—Dorothy Whitehurst Heard. Another member of Alpha Theta chapter at Texas, Dorothy Heard was in her second term as college president, District XII before coming on Grand Council. She is a resident of Houston, Texas, and has been a member of the Houston Alumnæ Theta Chapter for 37 years (a record?) and has held practically every job possible in this group, including serving as president.

Finance Committee—Gertrude Collins Levis. Gertrude lives in Rockford, Illinois, was a member of Theta at Psi, Wisconsin. She has been serving as Alumnæ president, District II. She has always been active in Rockford Alumnæ Chapter, helped organize Gamma Lambda Theta Chapter at Beloit, served on this chapter's Advisory Board and House Corporation. Has a Pi Kappa Alpha husband and son, a daughter who attended Sweet Briar.

Finance Committee (on loan from the Service Committee)—Elaine Lossman Ivie. Elaine is an initiate of Beta Omicron, University of Iowa, still lives in Iowa City. She has been chairman of Beta Omicron's Advisory Board, president of the Iowa City Alumnæ Club, assisted with State Days. She was elected college president, District XIII in 1959, has been reelected twice. She has a Sigma Chi husband, a young son and a daughter.

From soup to nuts, convention managers Ginger Boynton (r.), Harriet Damisch, never missed a trick the whole convention.

Convention Pictorial

Convention-goers were provided with Scotch school bags to carry their loot in. Someone had to stuff each bag with a program, various reports, make them ready for registration. Who else but the executive committee could do this? Here they are shown, lovin' their stuffin'. L. to r., Myrle Duncan, Irene Voight, Lois Foote, Grace Dickson, and Margaret Craig.

No, mam. Thetas never violate laws, especially parliamentary laws. Parliamentarian Flaningam briefs President Hazel.

Modest KITE editors Carolyn Carter (l.), Daphne Majors most often worked behind the scenes, put out a bang-up paper.

planners

The Foundation bulletin board was a busy spot at convention. Reading about graduate scholarships and fellowships made possible by Theta contributions to the Foundation are Marian Widman Leader and daughters Jane (l.) and Sue.

Making plans for Theta's newest chapter-to-be at the University of Utah were l. to r., Betty McGuigan Young, pledge trainer; Jo Stansfield, Grand Council installing officer; Karen Felte, colonizer. (Not present, colonizer Angela Peckham.)

Not interested in the missing link, these Thetas never stop trying to find missing Thetas. Dorothy Hughes (l.), PAS Randolph-Macon, makes notes while state chairmen Jane Miller (Fla.) and Albertine James (Calif.-So.) compare notes.

Who says we didn't work? Caught unawares at an Advisory Board session were these "working" Advisory Board members: (l.) Catherine McCord, DePauw; foreground, Sharon Davis Hillard, So. Methodist; standing, CDP VII, Dorothy Russell Jones; far right, Peggy Coldin Gamble, Arizona. Sorry, but for those two in center, "We didn't catch your names!"

Kappa Alpha Theta's 1963-1964 traveling secretaries arrived at convention full of vim and vigor and lots of good information about the chapters they had visited. Greeting Judy Rutledge (l.) and Jo Ann Kriegbaum (with hat) are President Hazel Lease (r.) and vice-president Norma Jorgensen.

Cincinnati Alumnae Chapter was outstanding chapter in college town, also made most magazine sales. Alberta Caine Storey (l.) accepted awards. Katherine Geyer (center) accepted the outstanding club in college town award for Manhattan, Kansas. Alumnae Cooperation award went to Delta Kappa, Louisiana State, given to Marion Arrowsmith. Far right, Advisory Board award went to Alpha Theta, Texas, received by Frances Landrum Holman, AB chairman there.

Kilt-clad, fifteen Grand Council members put on Highland Fling for Banff Stampede fun night. Here President Hazel (l.) draws mixed reaction from l. to r., a disdainful Mary Ackerman, a thoughtful, worried Peg Flaherty, a nonchalant Norma Jorgensen, and serious singers Marion Hinderer, JoAnn Thompson. Skit with appropriate song brought down house.

Even the Beatles (left) came to the Banff Stampede. Also a quartet of baseball players that know no equal. If Captain Vaaler (left in pic) looks cocky, it's because she's so proud of her "team"—Gullett the Great, Waltz the Wonderful, Cadwell the Competent. When they're not at bat on the diamond they're at bat for Theta as Central Office "team."

Still wearing Grand Council kilts, President Hazel, whose parents were born in Canada, received the Calgary "white hat" from fun night MC, Marion Williams Francis; also joined in the Calgary alumnae square dance "by popular request."

The banquet processional, when all Thetas march into the hall with members of their own chapters, is one of the most impressive events of convention. Left, Leirion H. Appleton, 71-year-Theta, Lambda, Vermont, is escorted by Vermont delegate, Sandra Murray. Right, Willie Trost Shattuck walks with Gertrude Collins Lewis with Psi, Wisconsin chapter.

And so it is ended, the 46th Grand Convention of Kappa Alpha Theta. The fun, the fellowship, the serious discussions are over and the nearly 500 Thetas who came together for this little while are scattered again. But "the melody lingers on." Thetas, like the ones above, truly had their heads in the clouds at Banff. As such these three typify all college Thetas, clouds of inspiration swirling around them, in whose capable young hands the future of our fraternity lies.

BOOKS by Theta authors

reviewed by Jacqueline Stice Kenney
Kappa, Kansas

*A reviewer with grandsons has it made
When children's books are the stock in trade;
Her consumers' research staff is right on tap,
With a reader alone and a listener on lap.
These two fine books met every test—
May your youngsters also enjoy them with zest.*

Miles and the Big Black Hat by Jane and Ross Land. E. C. Searle and Co., 1963 $3.50.

Singularly appropriate to the Thanksgiving season, this wonderfully delightful story in verse could well become as much of a family holiday tradition as turkey and cranberry sauce and counting blessings.

This is one of those rare books certain to bring appreciative chuckles and pleas of "Read it again" from any little boy or girl. At the same time, its light-hearted debunking of the stern Pilgrim myth makes it unadulterated fun for lucky adults on Children's Hour shift.

It concerns an engaging, non-conformist Pilgrim boy who hated his big black hat and tried unsuccessfully in many ingenious ways to get rid of it. His unorthodox behaviour caused his parents to sigh,

*"Oh, Miles, do not so wicked be;
Whatever will become of thee?"*

Like all good stories, however, this one has a happy surprise ending. It's no fair telling, but suffice it to say that Miles does finally get rid of his hat in such a wondrous way that the Pilgrims applaud and say,

*"Oh, Miles, how very wise you be.
We knew some good would come of thee."*

The Authors—Jane and Ross Land are really our old friends, Helen Ross Speicher and Kathryn Kilby Borland, Butler Thetas who co-authored Southern Yankees and Allan Pinkerton, Young Detective. Responsible for the witty and entrancing illustrations in this new book, presented in exquisite format, is Jean Dorion Kauper of the Creative Design Studios, Indianapolis.

Indefatigable Speicher and Borland are reported working now on their next book!

P. T. Barnum, Circus Boy by Augusta Stevenson. Bobbs Merrill Co., 1964 $2.25.

Miss Stevenson's 28th book in the Childhood of Famous Americans series is without a doubt, her best. Replete with lively conversations, fascinating characters, unexpected happenings and a good measure of suspense, it is the kind of story to hold a child's interest from first page to last.

A "ghost" in a garret, an Indian kidnaping that almost spoils a Fourth of July parade, unearthing treasure buried by the Vikings, even a little detective work unmasking a crook are among the ingredients in this exciting true story of "Finny" Barnum's youth. The great circus showman emerges as the kind of boy any modern child would like to have known. Certainly, this is history in its most palatable form.

The Author—Augusta Stevenson, distinguished Butler alumna, needs no introduction either to Theta readers or to their children. Internationally recognized, she has brought to life for the younger set such widely diverse characters as the Wright brothers, Francis Scott Key and Booker T. Washington.

Millions of copies of her books have been sold, many of them in foreign countries.

Augusta Stevenson

The Kennedy family may think it has a "magic" name nowadays, but for Theta just whisper Beta Omega, Colorado College and that's "magic" too. So magic, that four from that chapter are serving as Theta district presidents. Shown at convention are, l. to r., Elynor Harter Hendrickson, CDP VIII; Lucille Hampton Hersom, ADP VII; Gladys C. Bell, ADP XVII; Carolyn Wigley Hiester, CDP, XVII. They also now live in three different states—North Dakota, Arizona, Colorado.

Two top Thetas, who had Silhouette write-ups in the Summer Issue, are Theta traveling secretaries for the coming year.

Maybe you read about Diane Partridge, Beta Sigma, Southern Methodist (page 67, Summer 1964). Dean's List student, member of Mortar Board and in Who's Who, Diane was also voted the "Friendliest Girl" on the SMU campus.

Suzanne Savitz' Silhouette appeared on page 70, Summer Issue. She is an Alpha Sigma, Washington State Theta and is another top student, belongs to Mortar Board and Phi Kappa Phi. Suzanne, who attended Grand Convention, was president of her Theta chapter last year.

The name of Irene Combe Miller, Omicron, Southern California, who is Mrs. M. Kinzie Miller, was given wrongly as "Mrs. H. Kinsey Miller" on page 32 of the Winter 1963-1964 Issue of the magazine. This error was made in the listing of our much appreciated special charter contributors to the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation.

Our apologies to Mrs. Miller. We are indeed sorry!

The HONORARIES

INITIATION INTO AN HONORARY GROUP is always a memorable moment.

Likewise the privilege of wearing a Phi Beta Kappa key, the Phi Kappa Phi emblem, or the Mortar Board pin is one which is always treasured.

However, probably what a member of these, or other honorary groups, remembers most vividly is the moment of being chosen. Excitement wells up from down deep. Different schools have different traditions which determine ways of selecting new members for honoraries. At Southern Methodist University Mortar Board choosing is known as a "calling out." Called out this year from Theta were the three outstanding juniors shown above. Left to right they are Karen Anderson, editor of the school paper, The Campus; Carol Vogt, secretary of the Student Center; and, far right, Jane Harrell, secretary of the Student Senate. Diane Partridge, wearing the cap and gown, was called out for Mortar Board last year, this year won a cherished Phi Beta Kappa key. This SMU scene was enacted in one form or another on all college campuses last spring, and inspired those who are campus leaders to dig in harder with continuing service to their schools and their student bodies.

The Honoraries

edited by Margaret Stradling Moore

Alpha Chi, Purdue

◆ Once again it is time to cheer those Thetas whose efforts this past year have been rewarded with memberships in 53 honorary societies. It was nearly a "photo finish," with Arizona coming in the winner having 27 girls in eight honoraries. Close on their heels were Montana with 25 Thetas in nine societies, and Denison reporting 24 members (seven Phi Beta Kappas) joining 12 honor groups. Arizona State and Butler are also to be complimented for their good showing. All honoraries sent in were checked with the new Seventeenth Edition of Baird's Manual of American College Fraternities. Sorry we couldn't include any not listed in Baird's. A special "thank you" to the 75 chapter editors for their complete reports—let's have more in '65!—MARGARET STRADLING MOORE.

Honorary Statistics

♦ The Theta chapter at Denison University has more Phi Beta Kappa members than any other with seven girls having been elected for the 1964-1965 school year. Kansas State tops all others in Phi Kappa Phi elections with six. Arizona State is leader in Mortar Board membership with five. However Fresno State comes in for honors also, since seven Thetas there merited election to Tokalon, MB equivalent.

♦ Cornell's chapter of Theta was the earliest early bird of all in sending in a report on honorary elections beating second-place Pennsylvania and third-place Hanover by several days.

♦ Canadian honors have come to Ingrid Hall, McGill, in election to the Red Wing Society for scholarship and participation in extra-curricular activities; and to Kathy Hobson, British Columbia, with election to Delta Sigma Pi, for activity on the UBC campus. Elizabeth Houghton and Lindsay Scott, British Columbia, are University Scholars.

♦ Maureen Frolik is both a Fulbright and Woodrow Wilson winner, has accepted the Fulbright Scholarship to study contemporary French playwrights at the University of Strasbourg. Maureen is from Nebraska.

Another Fulbright scholar is Virginia Johannsen who will study political science at the University of Chile. She is a Wisconsin Theta.

Cam Walker of William and Mary will do graduate study at Yale University under a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship.

♦ Thetas spending the 1964-1965 school year abroad include Jean Puleston, Colorado State, who has a French Government scholarship for study in France; Kathleen Stewart, Colorado State, who is studying the language and culture in Russia; Mary Randall, North Dakota, who is in Lyon, France under a John O. Arneberg Scholarship; Florence Howard, Southern California, who is studying at the University of Tunis.

♦ Seniors honored as best in their class include Barbara Caleen Walike who was valedictorian for the graduating class of January 1964 at California-Los Angeles; Jeanne Buckingham who received the AWS award for outstanding achievement, character and service to the University of Maryland; Danielle Cammeron who received the Flora Roberts medal at Purdue as the outstanding senior woman of 1964; Marjorie Wentworth of Washington-St. Louis, given the Phoenix award for leadership.

Needed: Volunteers

It seems apparent, after attending the Banff convention as a chapter delegate, that one problem in any number of chapters is that the same people always volunteer and do the necessary organizing and work of the chapter.

One reason for this is that often people do not volunteer because they lack the necessary confidence in their own leadership ability. Yet I believe that leadership is one quality common to all human beings. No one can escape being a leader because if we live, we must necessarily lead someone in some direction. It is essential that each person realize this fact. Thus, never sit back and decline to volunteer because you feel your leadership is inferior. If you feel incapable of the chairmanship, be co-chairman!

A second reason for lack of volunteers, is that each chapter possesses members who joined for a free ride and simply never intended to contribute in any way. Yet, if Theta is a part of our lives, isn't it essential that we become active participants so that we also feel, hope, care, in short, Live as though Theta has some meaning for each of us? When Thetas become mere observers in life or in Kappa Alpha Theta, all lose something that can never be regained.

Finally, perhaps most significant, is that some members simply lack the feeling for Theta that would induce them to volunteer. We have in our ritual and heritage a truly beautiful embodiment of ideals . . . one that will not continue if our members do not also believe in Theta and want to give and work for Theta, without any thought of personal benefit or glory. Though we feel and act in different degrees, it is essential that each of us, in our own special degree, act and feel for Kappa Alpha Theta.—ROZANNE MACK, Gamma Sigma, San Diego State

★ Jeanette Gemmill Grasett, for whom the Kappa Alpha Theta Fellowship award was named at the 1962 Grand Convention, was second only to former secretary-editor, L. Pearle Green, in number of years of service given the fraternity. Besides serving as Theta's grand president and treasurer she inaugurated Theta's finance committee, served fifteen years on it; hired the first auditors; was responsible for the 1938 official survey which resulted in establishment of Theta's Central Office; was also a district president, chairman of chapter house building, on the Friendship Fund, and convention manager, 1948-1954. The 1962 convention tribute emphasized these qualities as paramount in her life: fun, enthusiasm, leadership.

What Is a Theta?

She is a poised individual . . .
not a pseudo-sophisticate.
She is an enthusiastic participant . . .
not an aggressive competitor.
She has fun and is fun . . .
yet she is always a lady.
She has the highest of standards . . .
yet she enjoys life.
She realizes her privileges . . .
and accepts the accompanying responsibility.
She is a dynamic leader . . .
but can also follow.

The preceding evaluation of a Theta was written by Lanna Toulouse, Alpha Rho, South Dakota, for her pledge daughter. Not long after this, in December 1963, both Lanna and her sister Deanna, also an active in Alpha Rho, met their deaths in an automobile accident.

THE FUND THAT THETAS HAVE BUILT

Our oldest service project—the Kappa Alpha Theta Loan and Fellowship Fund—was adopted at Grand Convention in 1905. The principal of the fund has grown from $10.00 to $100,000. It is used for loans to members of Kappa Alpha Theta, varying from $50.00 to $500, at 3% interest, payable two years after graduation. The aim of the fund is to aid the student who is near her goal but not to overburden her with a debt of long duration. In 1917, members at Grand Convention voted to give one dollar from each initiation fee to the loan fund. Every Theta has contributed; thus it is her own fund from which to borrow. The principal is frozen at $100,000 and the interest and amount over the principal are transferred to the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation for scholarships and fellowships. ♦ Over 1600 loans have been made since the fund was established. Following are actual quotations from a few of the many letters received from grateful Thetas who have taken advantage of their own loan fund. (As all loans are made in strictest confidence, names are omitted.) ♦ “As I write this final check for the $30.00 payment toward my loan of $300, I have a wonderful feeling. I wish to thank you so much for the loan. It helped to make the last days of my college memorable. This is a wonderful service we offer to those privileged to be sisters in Kappa Alpha Theta.” ♦ “I think if I were to write thank you a million times I could not show how grateful I am for the assistance Theta has given me. No one can ever know how much this loan means to me.” ♦ “I am the first woman in our family to go to college. My father asked to co-sign my loan—he was so proud of me to have had the gumption to apply. A million thanks to Theta. I hope every Theta will learn about this wonderful loan fund.”

For an application for a loan or for further information write to: Mrs. Walter Vaaler, Kappa Alpha Theta, Suite 342, 1580 Sherman Avenue, Evanston, Illinois 60201.

To Theta Parents:

Your daughter's magazine is sent to her home address while she is in college and we hope that you enjoy seeing it. But if she is no longer in college and is not living at home, please send her new permanent address to Kappa Alpha Theta, Suite 342, 1580 Sherman Avenue, Evanston, Illinois, 60201.

Hello or goodbye—the message is the same. There's just something about a Theta waving at a Theta. Even though the distance is from station to train, there's something indefinable in the air between. Theta love, perhaps? Whatever it is, it was felt by the Council members and DP's at convention, including l. to r., front row, Marion Hinderer, JoAnn Thompson, Mary Mantz (checked coat), Eleanor Hunt (light suit), Janice Schmuck
